Well, if you don t want your head punched, you had better say nothing against Blunt, the trooper grumbled, either in my hearing or out of it. The recruit turned away and occupied himself in grooming his horse. This is a rum start, he said to himself. Who would have thought of meeting Captain Mervyn out here? I saw in one of the papers, soon after I came out, the account of his trial. I wonder how I should have felt if I had been standing in his place? So he has changed his name. I suppose he arrived at the Cape when I was up the country, and must have enlisted at once, for it s nearly three months since I joined the depot, and a draft had only sailed the day before. At any rate it s not likely he will know me; not that he could do me any harm if he did, still it s always useful to know a man and to know something against...
