Superintendent Frank Leavitt, of Pittsburgh, is to give a course in vocational guidance and placement nt the summer session of the Buffalo Normal School. Mrs. Anna Y. Keed, of the Employment Service, is to spend a week at the Cleveland School of Education. The Junior Division of the Employment Service receives many calls for cooperation from cities preparing to introduce continuation schools. Superintendent Leavitt represented the national office at the meeting of the Michigan superintendents at the N. E. A. in Cleveland, where plans for the introduction of continuation schools in September, 1920, were discussed. In September, the national. ofli-e announced that it anticipated the preparation of a manual for the use of teachers and Junior Employment Service counselors on the subject of Vocational Guidance and Placement. It was hoped that Mr. E. W. Weaver would prepare this manual. Since that date, Mr. Weaver has become connected with the national vocational guidance and placement work of the T. M. C. A. , and the junior division of the service has been obliged to assume responsibility for the preparation of its own manual, which is to be issued shortly by one of the publishing houses. The purpose of the book Is to respond to the increasing demand made upon the junior division for printed material which indicates the status and field of vocational guidance, the relation of placement to guidance, of educational guidance to vocational guidance, and of employment supervision to both counseling and education.
