Agency and the Foundations of Ethics: Nietzschean Constitutivism

By Paul Katsafanas

Oxford University Press. Paperback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, Agency and the Foundations of Ethics: Nietzschean Constitutivism, Paul Katsafanas, Paul Katsafanas explores how we might justify normative claims as diverse as 'murder is wrong' and 'agents have reason to take the means to their ends.' He offers an original account of constitutivism—the view that we can justify certain normative claims by showing that agents become committed to them simply in virtue of acting—and argues that the attractions of this view are considerable: constitutivism promises to resolve longstanding philosophical puzzles about the metaphysics, epistemology, and practical grip of normative claims. The greatest challenge for any constitutivist theory is developing a conception of action that is minimal enough to be independently plausible, but substantial enough to yield robust normative results. Katsafanas argues that the current versions of constitutivism fall short on this score. However, we can generate a successful version by employing a more nuanced theory of action. Drawing on recent empirical work on human motivation as well as a model of agency indebted to the work of Nietzsche, Agency and the Foundations of Ethics argues that every episode of action aims jointly at agential activity and power. An agent manifests agential...
